

Compass High School

High School Special Education Spanish Teacher

Compass High School is seeking a Spanish teacher to join our faculty for the 2021-22 school year. Compass specializes in the education of students with learning differences. Our school is truly a unique and rewarding place for teachers to work with students with special needs. Compass is a small school with a high level of cohesion and collaboration among its faculty. Parents are highly involved and supportive.

The successful candidate will be able to teach high school Spanish I, II, and/or III and to differentiate instruction for a range of learners. We are looking for a teacher who is creative and flexible, who uses multisensory teaching techniques, and who designs structured lessons. A California special education teaching credential or progress towards one is preferred, as well as subject matter competency in Spanish.

Experience teaching students with learning differences is desired.

The successful candidate will also be comfortable collaborating with fellow teachers and administrators and will be someone who is open to feedback. The ideal candidate should also be someone who is enthusiastic about participating in the community of the school and its initiatives.

Compass High School is a nonprofit private school for students from diverse cultural and economic backgrounds who have learning differences. The mission of Compass High School is to provide a supportive, individualized program to help students develop their full academic potential. We focus on learning strategies, social competence, and self-advocacy to give students the knowledge and self-confidence they need to succeed. Compass High School is located in San Mateo.

This position is part time, but a full time position might be possible for the right candidate who could teach other subjects or electives.

Characteristics of Compass High School:

- Highly motivated students in grades 9-12.
- A dedicated faculty who believes that all students learn differently and who vary their teaching style to meet individuals' needs
- Small classes (classes range from 4 to 10 students)
- Strong collaboration with families
- A school climate where all students are valued and nurtured
- A college preparatory curriculum

To apply, please email a cover letter and resume to jobs@compasshigh.org and put "Spanish Teacher" in the subject of your email.
